

Post-doctoral position in pharmacology and imaging. A post-doctoral position is available in the Human Behavioral Pharmacology Laboratory (HBPL) of the Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Neuroscience at the University of Chicago. In the HBPL <http://hbpl.uchicago.edu/> we study the acute effects of psychoactive drugs on brain function and behavior. We are seeking an individual with experience designing and analyzing fMRI studies, as well as familiarity with implementing and interpreting standardized cognitive and behavioral tasks. A good publication history is preferred. Please send cv and names of three references to Harriet de Wit
