Neuropsychopharmacology
At the Intersection of Brain, Behavior, and Therapeutics

EDITOR IN CHIEF

William A. Carlezon, Jr., Ph.D.
Harvard Medical School
Belmont, MA

DEPUTY EDITORS

Tony P. George, FRCP (C), M.D.
University of Toronto
Toronto, ON

John F. Neumaier, M.D., Ph.D.
University of Washington
Seattle, WA

ASSOCIATE EDITORS

Anissa Abi-Dargham, M.D.
Stony Brook University
Stony Brook, NY

Susanne Ahmari, M.D., Ph.D.
University of Pittsburgh
Pittsburgh, PA

Arthur L. Brody, M.D.
University of California, San Diego
San Diego, CA

Stan B. Floresco, Ph.D.
University of British Columbia
Vancouver, BC

Markus A. Heilig, M.D., Ph.D.
Linköping University
Linköping, SE

Sheena Josselyn, Ph.D.
University of Toronto
Toronto, ON

Francis J. McMahon, M.D.
National Institutes of Health
Bethesda, MD

Lisa M. Monteggia, Ph.D.
Vanderbilt Brain Institute
Nashville, TN

K. Luan Phan, M.D.
The Ohio State University, Wexner
Columbus, OH

Yavin Shaham, Ph.D.
National Institutes of Health
Baltimore, MD

HOT TOPICS

Kathryn Cunningham, Ph.D.
University of Texas Medical Branch
Galveston, TX

SOCIAL MEDIA

Keri Martinowich, Ph.D.
Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine
Baltimore, MD

ACNP Executive Office
5034A Thoroughbred Lane
Brentwood, TN 37027
Tel: 615–324-2360
Fax: 615–523–1715

SOLICITATION OF CANDIDATES FOR
Editor in Chief
NEUROPSYCHOPHARMACOLOGY (NPP)

The role of Editor-in-Chief of Neuropsychopharmacology (NPP) is a term-limited appointment. As our current EIC approaches the end of their term (which runs through December, 2022), the ACNP is seeking candidates for the next EIC. Candidates must be an ACNP Member or Fellow with an international reputation for research that will help attract submissions to the journal. The College strongly encourages applications from diverse populations. The EIC reports to ACNP Council through the Publications Committee.

Desired characteristics of candidates include:

- outstanding scientific research reputation
- evidence of outstanding writing and editorial skills
- breadth of expertise in the discipline
- awareness of the social and ethical responsibilities associated with this position
- previous editorial experience
- ability to recruit highly qualified Field Editors, Editorial Board members and manuscript reviewers
- management skills necessary to establish and enforce journal policies and to oversee journal operations
- understanding of electronic manuscript submission, review and tracking systems
- no significant financial conflicts that could compromise execution of editorial responsibilities

Interested individuals are referred to the Position Description for more detailed information on the duties and responsibilities associated with this post. The Editor-in-Chief is appointed for a five year term that may be renewed once. The approximate time commitment for performing the core EIC duties is 8 hours per week. Applications materials for this position must be received by close of business on June 1, 2021 by submitting here. To be considered complete, the submission must include:

- curriculum vitae
- a letter describing interest in and qualifications for the position, including the ability to commit dedicated time and effort, and plans for the organization and operation of the journal
- a statement explaining how you define success at the end of your first five-year term
- a statement on commitment to Equity, Diversity, and Inclusion through the ACNP publication
- a Professional Income Source List as defined in the ACNP Conflict of Interest Policy.

The College and its members actively promote diversity and inclusion within the College and within our field not limited to race, ethnicity, religion, disability, age, sex, gender identity, sexual orientation, intellectual perspectives and points of view. Candidates will be considered based on individual merit and without regard to race, religion, national origin, veteran status, disability, sexual orientation, sex, or age.