Dear ACNP Council Members:

Please accept this letter in support of [Company's] application to become a Participating Corporation of ACNP.

[Members writing letters of support must disclose any relationship with the applicant company.]

[Members writing letters must clearly state the intellectual contribution from the applicant company.]

Original research in neuropsychopharmacology is an essential criterion for membership. [Please provide example(s) of original research by the applicant company, including, but not limited to your research collaborations, co-authored publications, and/or the company's drugs/devices/technology/services.]

[Discuss the potential contribution to the mission of the College by the applicant. Have individuals from the company participated in previous ACNP meetings as invited guests, panelists, and/or presenters? Do you believe they seek a long-standing relationship and are committed to the mission of the College? Do they have drugs/devices/technology/services that could be valuable to ACNP member research and/or are willing to share previously unpublished new data at annual meetings that may be of interest to ACNP members? How do you think the applicant may contribute to the diversity of representation at annual meetings?]

[Discuss, in your opinion, what the applicant seeks to gain from participation in the College.]

Please consider [Company] as a Participating Corporation in the College.

Sincerely,
