

2023 TRAVEL AWARD PROGRAM

62ND ANNUAL MEETING OF THE
AMERICAN COLLEGE OF NEUROPSYCHOPHARMACOLOGY

Tampa, Florida
JW MARRIOTT TAMPA WATER STREET/TAMPA MARRIOTT WATER STREET
DECEMBER 3-6, 2023

The American College of Neuropsychopharmacology (ACNP) annually selects distinguished young scientists in the field of neuropsychopharmacology to be part of our Travel Award program. These awards offer an opportunity to attend an outstanding scientific program in clinical and basic research on brain-behavior-drug interactions; become aware of the most recent, and often unpublished, advances in psychopharmacology; and meet and interact with internationally distinguished researchers and scientists.

Candidates from underrepresented populations in science and medicine are highly encouraged to apply. An underrepresented minority candidate is defined as African American, Hispanic, Native American, and U.S. Pacific Islander.

ELIGIBILITY*:

Any scientist worldwide is eligible to apply for a travel award. All candidates must be eligible in one of the three applicant tiers AND meet training/post training limits as described in more detail on the ACNP website.

The post training limit of 5yrs past final training can be extended by up to 2 years for significant life events and/or COVID-related research disruption. In this case, please provide background information in the application about the circumstances for the committee to consider (e.g., birth/adoption of a child, childcare, eldercare, illness or disability of applicant, care for an ill/disabled family member, personal or family tragedy, COVID-related lab shut-down, etc.).

ACNP members and previous Travel Awardees are not eligible to apply.

Supporting letters must be written by an ACNP member (all categories of membership). Supporting letters from non-members will not be accepted.

TRAVEL AWARD BENEFITS:

- Waived annual meeting registration for awardee and an accompanying other
- An invitation to attend and the opportunity to present a poster at four (4) additional annual meetings with a reduced registration rate
- An ACNP Member mentor for the annual meeting
- Up to 5 nights lodging at ACNP headquarters hotel in Tampa, Florida
- Round trip coach airfare to the annual meeting
- Up to $100 ground transportation stipend
- A daily stipend of $50 for meals for up to 6 days
- Onsite childcare stipend of $80 per day, per child for up to 6 days

APPLICATION TIERS*

CLINICAL STUDENT LEVEL

Clinical Student Level applicants are defined as those individuals who are currently candidates for a clinician-scientist dual degree (M.D./Ph.D., PharmD./Ph.D.), or are in another graduate-level clinical program (M.D., D.O., D.V.M., D.N.P., Psy.D., Clinical Psychology) and are receiving research training.

JUNIOR LEVEL

Junior Level applicants are defined as those individuals who are below Assistant Professor (or equivalent level) AND currently engaged in research training. i.e.: non-clinician Ph.D. students, medical residents or fellows, Pharm.D. residents, interns, and post-doctoral fellows.

SENIOR LEVEL

Senior Level applicants are defined as those individuals who are at the Assistant Professor level or its equivalent (e.g. Instructor, Scientist, etc.), but not an R01 awardee. Clinicians will have completed all research training.

*Please visit the ACNP Website, <https://acnp.org/annual-meeting/travel-awards>, for detailed information and eligibility criteria for all applicant tiers before applying.
