

ACNP 62nd Annual Meeting, December 3-6, 2023

We are looking forward to welcoming members and their guests to the JW Marriott Tampa Water Street and Tampa Marriott Water Street in Tampa, Florida. The JW Marriott and Tampa Water Street hotels are connected by a sky bridge. Both hotels have meeting space and guest rooms and the ACNP Meeting will be evenly located between the two. They are both considered the official conference venue for the Annual Meeting.

This year's annual meeting will be held in a hybrid meeting format allowing members and invited guests to attend in-person at the JW Marriott Tampa Water Street and Tampa Marriott Water Street in Tampa, Florida or virtually on the ACNP Virtual Meeting Platform. The in-person option will include the classic ACNP Annual Meeting experience while the virtual option will allow attendees to participate through live stream in all plenary sessions, panels, mini-panels, study groups and oral presentations. All plenary, panels, mini-panels, and study groups will be recorded (with the presenter's approval) for later viewing. Virtual attendees will not be able to participate in the in-person networking sessions or the in-person poster sessions. There will not be a virtual poster session scheduled for this year's meeting, but the e-Poster gallery will be available to all attendees.

Members who request the invitation should vouch for the minority status of the scientist they are inviting. Policy Reminders

Council recognizes that many people who attend our meeting find it a convenient place to network and to connect with colleagues from other academic, government, or industrial organizations. This informal networking has historically been an important aspect of the meeting that many of our members believe has helped further scientific progress. However, organizing competing activities (e.g., satellite sessions, scientific board meetings, or social functions) that take attendees away from the meeting site detracts from other important goals of the meeting, such as fostering an atmosphere that encourages both formal and informal scientific discourse throughout the week and providing opportunities for travel awardees, trainees, and other young scientists to interact with leaders in the field. Therefore, Council asks that you refrain from organizing activities that take our members and meeting attendees away from the meeting site.

Many of our supporting corporations and academic institutions are large organizations with many people involved in planning meetings, and we realize that sometimes people organize meetings in conflict with this policy simply because they are not aware of it. If you are invited to attend any such functions, please help us by reminding the person issuing the invitation that this would be a violation of ACNP policy.

Additionally, the ACNP name, logo, or the name of the Annual Meeting should not be used in association with any CME activity or outside advertising without the approval of the College. To seek permission to use the name of the College, please contact the Executive Office (acnp@acnp.org), who will have your request reviewed by the appropriate committee and/or Council. If someone asks you to write a report of sessions you attend at the meeting, please let them know that publishing such a report would be a violation of this policy.

Photographing, Screenshots, and Recording During the Annual Meeting:

Photographing, screenshots, or recording material presented in a panel, mini-panel, study group or poster session is not allowed. Photographing or screenshotting a speaker before, during, or after a session is not allowed. Unauthorized photography or recording is unfair to the presenters and will have the effect of discouraging our members from presenting their most recent unpublished work.

Acceptable use of Social Media:

ACNP encourages the use of social media such as Twitter, Facebook, Instagram, Google+ and blogging sites to engage our community in the Annual Meeting. We encourage you to post or tweet highlights about the meeting, discuss your favorite speakers, panels and posters and offer recommendations on which panels and posters to attend.

When sharing information, we request you refrain from -

- Photographing, screenshots, or recording the material presented in panel, mini-panel, study group or poster session. This is unfair to the presenter and will have the effect of discouraging our members from presenting their most recent unpublished work.
- Using social media to share detailed content of lectures, posters etc., especially when the organizer or speaker has explicitly requested that some or all of the information presented is not to be captured or shared.
- Photographing or screenshotting speakers before, during, or after a session.

Small Meetings:

If you would like to host a small meeting during the ACNP Annual Meeting, you must request approval by completing an Event Request Form and submitting to the Executive Office for approval. Please contact ACNP, acnp@acnp.org, with questions.

Code of Conduct:

The American College of Neuropsychopharmacology is dedicated to providing a safe and productive experience for all participants and attendees at all official ACNP events regardless of sex, race, color, national origin, religion, age, physical or mental disability, perceived disability, ancestry, marital status, sexual orientation, gender identity, or any other basis protected by federal or pertinent state laws. ACNP does not tolerate discrimination or any form of prohibited harassment and is committed to enforcing this Code of Conduct (the "Code") at its Annual Meeting or at any other ACNP event.
