

ACNP TRAVEL AWARD PROGRAM

64th Annual Meeting of the American College of Neuropsychopharmacology

ATLANTIS PARADISE ISLAND RESORT
JANUARY 12-15, 2026

acnp.org

Nassau, Bahamas

The American College of Neuropsychopharmacology (ACNP) annually selects distinguished young scientists in the field of neuropsychopharmacology to be part of our Travel Award program. These awards offer an opportunity to attend an outstanding scientific program in clinical and basic research on brain-behavior-drug interactions; become aware of the most recent, and often unpublished, advances in psychopharmacology; and meet and interact with internationally distinguished researchers and scientists.

ELIGIBILITY*:

Any scientist worldwide is eligible to apply for a travel award. All candidates must be eligible in one of the two applicant levels AND meet the terminal training limits as described in more detail on the ACNP website.

ACNP members and previous Travel Awardees are not eligible to apply.

Supporting letters must be submitted by an ACNP member (all categories of membership). Supporting letters from non-members will not be accepted.

APPLICATION LEVELS

JUNIOR LEVEL

Junior Level applicants are defined as those individuals who are below Assistant Professor level, or equivalent if in a non-academic institution). i.e.: non-clinician Ph.D. students, medical residents or fellows, Pharm.D. residents, interns, and post-doctoral fellows. These applicants may be within, but no more than 5 years past their terminal training. The terminal training limit of 5 years can be extended by up to one (1) year for significant life events for Junior Level.

SENIOR LEVEL

Senior Level applicants are defined as those individuals who are at the Assistant Professor level or its equivalent, but have not yet received an R01 or other large, independent grant as PI or multi-PI. Clinicians will have completed all research training. Applicants may be no more than 7 years past their terminal training.
